

Press Conference of the European Biogas Association at Biogas Convention and Trade Fair, 15 January 2014, Nuremberg (Germany)

12 December 2013, Brussels

EBA presents the latest biogas production statistics for Europe

Personal changes in the Executive Committee: the new EBA President elected

Biogas is a significant contributor to the European energy supply and EBA, within 5 years of its existence, has managed to increase the importance of biogas in policy makers' agenda even more. At the world's biggest Biogas Convention and Trade Fair, organised by our member Fachverband Biogas, EBA will present some latest news:

New president: On 14 January in Nuremberg, the EBA members will elect a new President and one new Board Member. Arthur Wellinger, co-initiator and founding president of EBA will resigns after having built-up and led the organisation for successful 5 years and gives an opportunity to a younger successor full of fresh ideas and stimulating initiatives.

New production statistics for Europe: EBA will present the latest Europe-wide statistics on biogas production, plant numbers, biomethane and support schemes, summarized in the Biogas Report 2013. The association will briefly analyse the situation on the biogas markets.

Answers to the questions will be provided by the panellists from the podium:

- The newly elected EBA President
- The newly elected Executive Board Member
- Harm Grobrügge (EBA Vice-President, Germany)
- Theo Verleun (Chairman of the Company Advisory Council, DSM).

We would like to invite you to the EBA Press conference, which will take place on Wednesday, 15 January 2014 between 13:00 and 13:45 at Exhibition Center (Messezentrum Nürnberg), NCC Mitte, 1st floor, Room Lissabon in Nuremberg.
