Invitation to General Assembly

Dear Member of the European Biogas Association,

It is my great pleasure to personally invite you to join the next General Assembly of EBA, which will take place on Tuesday, 23 January 2018 preceding our next two-day EBA conference in Antwerp, Belgium. I will be honoured to present you the developments made throughout the year 2017, and to present our future outlook. The year 2018 will be immediately kick-started by the conference where high-level speakers from the industry, academia and political life will present their views on the future of biogas in Europe.

After the Assembly we invite you for a networking cocktail to cheer together for a successful conference and the year 2018 together. We look forward to getting to know the new members better and catching up with all existing members.

I hope to see you all at the next EBA General Assembly and Conference in Antwerp.

With Kind Regards,

Jan Stambasky, President
