

CONSIDERING JOINING THE EUROPEAN BIOGAS ASSOCIATION?

6 REASONS TO BECOME AN EBA MEMBER

ABOUT THE EBA

EBA is the voice of renewable gas in Europe. Founded in February 2009, the association is committed to the active promotion of the deployment of sustainable biogas and biomethane production and use throughout the continent.

Join an extensive network of 190 members in Europe and beyond

EBA has an extended network of national associations, companies, research institutes, and other organisations operating in the renewable energy sector. As EBA member, you will be part of the Company Advisory Council or the Scientific Advisory Council and discuss within different working groups a variety of issues which have an impact on the biogas and biomethane sectors.

See your interests supported at EU level

EBA is the voice of biogas and biomethane in Brussels advocating for the interests of your organisation. Our association works in close cooperation with EU institutions and actively contributes to the development of a supportive legal framework for the scale-up of biogas and biomethane in Europe.

Get in-depth assessments of the state of play of the biogas and biomethane sectors in Europe

EBA serves as a platform for information exchange and knowledge transfer. As EBA member, you will receive high-level intelligence on the state of play of the biogas and biomethane sectors and the execution of key EU policies having an impact on the renewable gas sector.

Participate in research projects promoting the deployment of renewable gases across Europe

EBA is committed to research & innovation. We participate in different EU projects helping to develop the biogas and biomethane sectors. As EBA member, you can cooperate with us in boosting the development of renewable gas technologies.

Meet and exchange with high-level stakeholders involved in our sector

Our own conferences and workshops attract a big number of stakeholders. As EBA member, you will get the opportunity to become a speaker, a sponsor in our events, or benefit from special conditions as participant for members only.

Enhance your visibility through EBA strong digital presence

EBA engages with broad audiences through online and offline communications and regular media presence. As EBA member, you will have visibility on our website, as well as free access to our members area. You will also have the opportunity to spread information about the activities of your organisation through our online channels and newsletters.

"The creation of shared rules that favor renewable gas at European level can act as a booster for the development of the Italian biomethane market that can play a primary role in achieving the agroecological transition and the decarbonization targets."

Piero Gattoni, Acting EBA President & CIB President

"The role of the EBA is key in advocating for the development of renewable gas across Europe, assessing the state of play in the sector and promoting the positive impact of the industry. "

Harmen Dekker, EBA CEO

"The EBA provides us with the opportunity to engage with the dynamic renewable gas community. The association has been instrumental in addressing the energy needs of rural European communities and businesses that are often overlooked in energy transition discussions."

Bram Graber, CEO, SHV Energy
